

More To You Than Meets The Heart

Words & Music by Joe LaMay

I could tell by your first kiss
That I would never get over this
'Cause I could see right from the start
There's more to you than meets the heart

Every man must have his day
When that one woman shows the way
And you had it down to an art
There's more to you than meets the heart

I love you gentle - I love you true
I love the tender things you do
That keep me strong when we're apart
There's more to you than meets the heart

Oh, I could swear - I could sing
I could write most anything
But there's one truth I must impart
There's more to you than meets the heart

I thank the stars you came along
With your sweet touch and your sweet song
And your first kiss that hit the mark
There's more to you than meets the heart

So, spread you wings little dove
And find your way to my arms of love
I've been right here from the start
There's more to you than meets the heart

©2000 Joe LaMay, Pressed For Time, BMI. All rights reserved.