

Steal You Away

Words & Music by Joe LaMay

It's a mighty long road from the east to the west
And I've traveled that road with the worst and the best
But I know that you're mine so I'd go anytime
I got a feeling today
I'd like to steal you away

Give me two reasons why I could have acted so poor
I never opened my eyes till you walked out the door
And the feeling's so strange 'cause there's nothing can change
I had a feeling that day
When I gave you away

One and one is two in any man's game
But living here without you is a heart breaking shame
So I'll tell you in song that I know I was wrong
I got a feeling today
I'd like to steal you away

©1976 Joe LaMay, Pressed For Time, BMI. All rights reserved.